Survivors in a Quantity of Mess

By Associated Press
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 11.—Few additional details concerning the burning and sinking last night of the steamer Jessie L. Jones at Mississippi Landing, in which the passengers were reportedly drowned, were obtainable today. It is known that one of those drowned was a negro woman. The first estimate of the victims amounted to 150, though it was by far the largest number. It was thought that about 100 persons were on board.

SLIDES.

The big slide at Indian Creek which has covered the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and will put its line out of commission for a week necessitating the running of trains via Fairmont and the possible limited use of the neighboring line of the Western Maryland suggests the thought that possibly the Baltimore & Ohio built on the wrong side of the river.

The Western Maryland railroad has been completed upwards of one year, the trees broken are still green, yet it has had scarcely any trouble with slides, while the Baltimore & Ohio has had numerous accidents of this character. These have occurred in certain portions of the line which have been exposed to them intermittently for many years.

The Indian Creek slide, for example, which is reported to involve about four miles, is a slide which has been moving fast to its job over since the road was built over forty years ago. At this point and some others on the line the geological stratification is such that a large portion of the mountain is on a sliding board and it gets down every now and then as the big slide gets softened up with water seeping down from the top surface. The railroad company might make money by hunting up that clay deposit and buying it a rain coat.

If the stratification on the Western Maryland side of the river maintains its same general pitch, it is easy to understand why that railroad will have no trouble from slides of this character, and others don't count for much.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The question which agitates the people mind of Connellsville just now is what the new Board of Health is going to do with respect to it?

The Board in its action on new blood seems more important than anything else could merit itself of the old adage that a majority of its members should be composed of representatives of the medical profession, and including there has been considerable public criticism of the proposed bill, courtesy which has in the past been prone to work at violations of law by compelling physicians to report contagious diseases and to contribute to the enforcement of certain regulations annoying to patients and their families but necessary for the protection of the public.

The Courier will adhere to its opinion that the best Board of Health Connellsville could have had would have been composed of three members—two doctor and two sensible laymen.

FROM BENCH TO COURT.

Judge Stephen Leslie Mestrellet's willingness to sacrifice himself on the altar of the Pennsylvania Democracy's love of electing a Senator or a Governor this year seems to have touched the heart of Justice in the easy loss of the White House. Justice Mestrellet was in an extended conference with the President on Monday and came home to tell his relatives, friends of Russell and George, ambassadors, were very anxious and ambitious authors.

It looks like Mestrellet has really been affected either of those posts. It would be a great honor, quite as great as that of being Governor or Senator of Pennsylvania. The positions are, however, moderately improbable as they are highly honorable. The salaries and allowances are not sufficient to maintain him in the customary manner.

While money is no object to Judge Mestrellet, he having ample fortune of his own, dependant, truly, we very much doubt whether a career of distinction will appeal to him.

Now I waited upon having one day on the Court of Health and got rid of the esteemed contemporary, sometimes simply irresistible.

Every postoffice appointment in Fayette county is one spoke in and one sprig out for the wheels of the Pennsylvania machine of Fayette County.

The carpenters are getting too close to home.

The democratic government of Fayette is not without its critics. Every now and then a scab of citizens wants to clean up the Parliament.

Getting into seats is an expensive process.

George W. England, his Parliament of a few hours and entertainment at the reception at the tea room.

The world is wearing out the world with the wearing out of the world.

The Blue Law episode in Connellsville seems of minor importance.

The female member of the Board of Education is serving the one-year term. The school evidently regards her as an experiment.

The politicians are getting very busy.

LINCOLN DAY IS TO BE OBSERVED IN SCOTTDALE

Congressman A. L. Keister,
Speaker for the Sons of Veterans.

A STUDENT OF LINCOLN'S LIFE

Pastor of Methodist Church Will Preach Sunday Morning on Lincoln's Legacy to Citizenship, and Sons of Veterans Will Have Service.

SPRINGFIELD, Pa., Feb. 11.—There will be at least three observances of Lincoln's Birthday in town, the first when the Sons of Veterans will hold a meeting at their hall to pay tribute to respect and regard to the Great Emancipator. The speaker of the evening will be Congressman A. L. Keister, who telegraphed from Washington, as reported that he accepted the invitation of the Sons of Veterans to speak at their meeting which will be held on Thursday evening. Congressman Keister is a great admirer of the master President and Mr. Keister's library contains more regarding Lincoln than is probably to be found in any other library in either country.

The second observance of Lincoln's birthday will be at the First Methodist Church on next Sunday morning. The sermon by H. S. Pfeifer has been planned to have as its subject the "Legacy of Abraham Lincoln." Until this time his book is the only one of importance by Mr. Pfeifer's authorship. It deals with Lincoln's Legacy to American Citizenship. The hour will be 11 o'clock, and there will be special services in the church to make the occasion very striking.

On Sunday evening the Sons of Veterans will march to the Christian Church where the pastor Rev. O. J. Howard will himself be the man of ceremony. I pray a special sermon to the God taking Abraham Lincoln's place.

CELESTINE COVING CUP

PAUL T. COVING, No. 29 of the Pittsburgh Street, paid a pretty and handsome tribute of regard to Mrs. Maude R. Pfeifer in presenting her with a beautiful silver trophy cup. Mrs. Pfeifer has been a member of the Pittsburgh Society of Friends since 1908. The Friends' Sisterhood is the oldest organization in town, and is in its 27th year.

The cup was presented in the name of Mrs. Maude Pfeifer, who, in reply, replied in appreciation of the gift. Mrs. Pfeifer is now president of the Westmoreland County and Monongahela women, and she and her six-year-old mother, Mrs. Ruth Covington, were at home on Monday night and opened the gift.

Mrs. John Peck of Bear Creek, who was the first to wear the Silver Cup, was the first to appear in the competition. Misses Ruth and Mrs. Peck, who are residents of the city, will also be seen in the competition.

The competition is open to women between 18 and 25 years of age, and the winner will receive $100.

PAUL T. COVING, of Pittsburg Street, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Pittsburgh Street, and he has been re-elected to the Board of Directors of the Pittsburgh Street.

JOHN D. TOO BUSY

John D. Too Busy writes Tax Commissioners He Had No Time to Make Return.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 11.—Tax Commissioners John Fackler and William Agnew drove to Forest Hill this morning to find whether John D. Rockefeller, who is now in New York, had filed out the blank left with him a week ago for the listing of his personal property for taxation. They were received by the oil king's secretary who gave them a letter from Rockefeller in which he acknowledged the receipt of the blank but said he had not had time to fill out the return before leaving Cleveland.

Fackler and Agnew decided to give the Standard Oil head time to make a voluntary return. If this does not satisfy the commissioners, when resolved they will determine on the action to take up the duplicate of the several hundred million dollars worth of securities the collector owns.

TRY THIS IF YOU HAVE DANDRUFF

Or Are Bothered With Itching Dandruff or Itching Scalp.

Take This Hint. The man who systematically saves his money is the man who becomes wealthy. The marked characteristic of the self-made man of wealth is the fact that he is saving man—something that he can do for himself. You can exercise the faculty of saving without even doing it. Try being a savings student person laying aside a portion of all income that you receive and constantly keeping it in a saving interest. WATERY BLISTERS ON CHILD'S FACE

And Body, Itched So He Scratched and Made Sores, Burned Like Fire, Did Not Sleep Day or Night, Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment Two Months, Trouble Went Away.

North Bend, Pa.—"When my child's trouble began his face became red and watery blisters. If he had rubbed his face would not alleviate. We had to keep his hands tied up most of the time. The child's body broke out in waters blisters and itched so badly he could hardly stand. He scratched it until it made sores and burn like fire. He did not get sleep day or night. The only relief he got was when he was sitting on the floor and he would lay his face on the cold old-tot.

"We tried two treatments and we used remedies for eczema ever since the child was born, and nothing seemed to do him any good until we received a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I took the child and would wash him good with Cuticura Soap and then I would lay the Cuticura Ointment on. I would leave the Ointment on about an hour then I would wash him off good with the Cuticura Soap. The trouble lasted about three years before we used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We purchased more Cuticura Soap and Ointment and used them over two months and it went away." (Signed) Mrs. Wm. Probst, Apr. 14, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c and Cuticura Ointment 50c are sold everywhere. Liberal samples of each mailed free, with 32-p. Sales Book. Advertising card "Cuticura Dept. T. Boston."

RATES TO PRIVATE LINES NO SECRET, RAILROAD MEN SAY

Rate Agreements With Industrial Lines Have Been on File.

CONFIRMED BY THE COMMISSION

Action in regard to Practise Branding as Discriminatory Against Small Carriers Resulted in Initiative of the Carriers Seeking Justice

The railroads seem to share in railroad men's gripes and profits. When they are all allied in their interest, the Commission of course has the nature of a committee, but to be sure matters are not so simple. The railroads will be compelled to give up some of the power they have, and the carriers will be compelled to give up some of the power they have.

It is the law, however, that the railroads be compelled to give up some of their power, and the carriers will be compelled to give up some of theirs. In

CHAPTER XVI.

In Devil-John's Day.

He was still sitting motionless when there came a knock at the door and it opened to admit the gruff voice of Doctor Southall. A big form was close behind him.

"Hello! Up, I see. I took the liberty of bringing Major Bristow."

The master of Damory Court came forward limping the least trifle—and shook hands.

"Glad to know you, sir," said the major. "Allow me to congratulate you—it's not every one who gets bitten by one of those infernal projectiles that likes to talk about it. You must be a pet of Providence or else you have a cast iron constitution."

"It's an annual affair," explained the major, a kind of spectacle. For many years, by the way, it has been held on a part of this estate—perhaps you will have no objection to its use this season—and at night there is a dance at the Country Club. By the way, you must let me introduce you there—tomorrow I've taken the liberty already of putting your name up."

"Good lord!" growled the doctor aside. "He counts himself young! If I'd reached your age, Bristow—"

"You have," said the major, mettling.

"Four years ago!—As I was saying Mr. Valiant, they ride for a prize. It's a very ancient thing—I've seen references to it in a colonial manuscript in the Byrd Library at Westover. No doubt it's come down directly from the old jousts."

"You don't mean to say," cried his hearer in genuine astonishment, "that Virginia has a lineal descendant of the tournament?"

The major nodded. "Yes. Certain sections of Kentucky used to have it, too but it has died out there. It exists now only in this state. It's a curious thing that the old knightly meetings of the middle ages should survive today only on American soil—and in a corner of Virginia."

The major nodded. "Yes. Certain sections of Kentucky used to have it, too but it has died out there. It exists now only in this state. It's a curious thing that the old knightly meetings of the middle ages should

This let-go is original, in Connellsville, to the Wright-Metzler store.

It is S-O-M-E Sale!

The suits and overcoats are regular stock, high-power garments from tip-top makers.

The clothes are in glass cases as far as good looks and long life goes —but mighty good mixers when tagged for a clear-away.

The talk part of this announcement is a whisper—there's no fireworks, cloth signs, bells or side show stunts to make you think the end of the clothing world is near.

The real noise is in the value you get; and thinking men hear it from a long ways off.

Real saving of $5 to $15 has a pleasant jingle to it that most men would rather hear than sleep.

—and in this sale they can honestly count themselves in that much as strongly as if it went on the "Dr." side of their bank book.

The original prices are moderate for the quality.

The men's sale prices touch a bottom never sounded by other stores here.

There's no dead stock in the sale; no old bones to dig up and sell! The garments here longest are not six months in the house.

The models are for ALL men—regular, stout, short, tall and slender.

The styles are well selected and range from plain clothes to the newest English ideas. Sale Thursday.
